Mayors seek funds for more police officers

By Bob Slate
Staff writer

Three area mayors are lobbying hard for passage of a crime bill that proposes to put more policemen on city streets.

Mayors Ron Selph of Granite City, John Bellhoff of Madison and Tyrone Echols of Venice have all lent the clout of their signatures to a letter drafted by Selph — a former police officer — and sent to Congressional representatives of the local area.

The letter cites unfunded mandates passed along to cities by the legislature as one problem in fighting crime.

"In Venice, Madison and Granite City, we have been struggling to combat crime while dealing with escalating costs and reduced revenues. We need help," the letter states.

"In recent years, state government has burdened cities with unfunded mandates while cutting back on shared revenue. Burdens that used to be jointly borne by state and local government have been left to us to carry on."

The mayors' primary concern about the program — proposed by President Bill Clinton and still pending in Congress — is the manner in which funds will be distributed.

"Too often in the past, good programs have been rendered ineffective because the funding gets bogged down in either federal or state 'red tape.'"

"The funds never seem to trickle down to where they are really needed, at the municipal level," the letter states.

"For this program to work the way the president has envisioned it, it is imperative that Congress streamlines the funding process and focuses on local police departments."

"In that way, we will be able to make the maximum use of the dollars allocated, putting more officers on the street," the letter states.

"We're sure that you will agree with us and work to ensure the integrity of the crime bill as it proceeds through Congress."

"Together, we can make a good idea work," the letter concludes.

1 arrest, no injuries in shootout on road

A 34-year-old Granite City man has been charged in connection with a shootout that took place on heavily-traveled Nameoki Road early Saturday morning.

No one was hurt in the shooting, which reportedly took place shortly before 3 a.m.

Larry "Doc" Maykopet, of the 3000 block of Maryville Road, was charged with three counts of aggravated discharge of a firearm. He was being held on $100,000 bond.

A 25-year-old man residing in the 2500 block of Nameoki Road told police Maykopet fired three shots at his home from a shot gun.

According to a police report, the man, his wife and a witness who was visiting friends in nearby Kirkpatrick Homes all told police that Maykopet fired one round from a shotgun through a bedroom window of the victims' home.

The woman who resides there then obtained her husband's gun, a .38-caliber revolver, the report states. The man ran out onto his front porch and fired five rounds from the revolver as Maykopet ran to Maykopet's car, a blue 1982 Toyota, the report states.

Maykopet fired a second blast at the home as he drove north on Nameoki Road, witnesses told police.

Maykopet then turned his car around on Pershing Boulevard.

Granite City schools recycling paper

By Bob Slate
Staff writer

Granite City schools are doing their part to dispel the belief that ours is a "throw-away society."

Thanks to a recent grant by the Madison County Building, Zoning and Environmental Department, all elementary school buildings in the district are now involved in paper recycling projects.

The most recent grant covers 10 months of dumpster rentals for office paper and cardboard recycling; purchase of three 90-gallon carts for paper collection; and purchase of three can compactors for aluminum can recycling.

Mike Vorce, a teacher of fifth and sixth grade behavioral disorder students at Wilson Elementary School who spearheads the paper project at that building, said he is amazed at the response of students to recycling.

"I am hearing young, young kids — first and second graders — being very vocal about environmental protection issues."

"Until you see it, you would never realize how much paper we use in a school building."

— Mike Vorce
Teacher

"I don't think I, myself, thought much about environmental issues like air pollution and recycling, at least until high school," Vorce said.

"But I guess one reason is that these kids hear so much about it today ... I think we are kind of dispelling the idea that we live in a throw-away society."

At Wilson, separate bins — red in color to make them stand out — are set out and earmarked specifically for collecting paper that can be recycled.

Laub hires back seven employees

By Bob Slate
Staff writer

Granite City Township Assessor Darlene Laub has hired back, at least temporarily, her seven employees who were laid off Oct. 1.

Laub said Monday that she has hired the seven on a temporary basis to help with an overload of work in her office.

"There's just some months that the work has to be done. That's just the way it is in the assessment field," Laub said. "I had to have some help and I couldn't wait for (the Town Board) to sit up there and argue about it," she said.

Laub said the additional personnel to be paid on an hourly basis and according to Laub, were necessary to handle the extraordinary January workload in her office.

Two of her nine full-time employees had been retained despite a budget cut ordered by the Town Board. The seven who were laid off are now back at work, but on a temporary basis.

By 3 p.m. Monday, Laub said, her office had handled 223 telephone calls on that day alone.

In addition to stuffing envelopes and answering telephone calls regarding homestead assessment exemptions, Laub said, some of her workers were reassessing property that had been improved over the last few months.

Last week, Laub informed the Town Board's Finance Committee that she needed to hire some part-time or full-time workers to deal with the January rush. She told the board that she would have funds left over from her 1993-94 budget to cover the costs.

Finance Committee Chairman Walter Milton told Laub that the hiring was at her discretion as long as she remained within the confines of the reduced budget.

The layoffs earlier this year were ordered by Laub after the Town Board cut her budget proposal substantially.

Laub and her employees have since filed a lawsuit against the board seeking a court order forcing the board to adopt an increased budget.

Filed with murder suspects

18 charged with killings are being held in county jail

A successful year solving murder cases combined with a record felony caseload has filled the Madison County Jail with suspects.

"We have an abundance of murder suspects in the County Jail, more than I've ever seen before," Sheriff Bob Churchich said. "We have 18 murder suspects in our jail right now."

Four of them are suspects in murders committed more than a decade ago.

But others are charged with killings that took place in 1993, a year that saw the number of county felony charges filed reach 2,026. That is more than 100 more than the 1,926 felonies filed in 1992, the previous record.

Overall, 1993 was an active year in high-profile cases, including failed appeals attempts by Paula Sims, who is serving a life sentence for the murder of her second daughter, Heather, and has acknowledged killing her first daughter, Loralei.

An arrest came in the case of the grisly July 1992 strangulation and beating murder of JoAnn Dietzel, formerly of Granite City, in Foster Township.

Terry Ridenour, 34, of Godfrey and Edward Miller, 37, of Cahokia are awaiting trial on first-degree murder charges.

"We're waiting for all the evidence to be put together and waiting to go to court," Churchich said.

Five men were sent to death Nov. 17 in Eagle Park: David Thompson, 21, Marion Jennings, 25, Cedrick Gardner, 22, Bedford Jennings, 19, and Jeff Mosby, 33.

Four of the five deaths were attributed to drug activities. Charged with murder were Michael Coleman Jr., 21, Venice (four counts), Sherrell Towns, 20, Washington Park (five counts), and Remon Williams, 21, of East St. Louis (five counts).

First-degree murder charges were lodged against Walter P. Gleason, 46, and Robert McNear, 51, in early December for the 1971 slaying of Dr. Louis H. Haynes. The Homicides/Violent Crimes Task Force of Madison and St. Clair Counties closed that case.

"We have an abundance of murder suspects in the County Jail, more than I've ever seen before."

—Bob Churchich
County sheriff

Suspects from a 1967 Alton murder and a 1981 Wood River murder are also being held in the jail.

Norval Wells, 68, is still awaiting trial for the 1967 murder of John Hale Jr., a case cracked 25 years to a day after the slaying. Pre-trial motions have been filed in the case and Wells at one point even threatened to go on a hunger strike if the case wasn't speeded up.

Bruce E. Stages, 36, is also awaiting the settlement of pre-trial motions for his first-degree murder trial to begin in the death of George Pauley of Wood River in 1981.

Police officers were also busy last year solving new murders. Arrests have been made in all areas murders last year except the slaying of Stuart Craiglines, 27, who was found fatally shot June 30 in the living room of his Kampsville home.

"The police agencies have done an excellent job this year of clearing cases," Churchich said.

The first murder of 1993 resulted in four years' probation for Malinda Chast, 23, who pleaded guilty to second-degree murder in the shooting slaying of her boyfriend, Garner T. Gibson.

Choat and Gibson, both of Golden Eagle in Calhoun County, were visiting relatives Jan. 9 in Cottage Hills when she shot him six times at close range.

Choat said Gibson had beaten her before and had threatened to kill her earlier in the day.

Late summer and early fall were busy for homicide detectives, with two deaths in August and two in October.

Two of the victims were boys, each about two years old. Keith E. Bennett and Kathy Cecil, both 19, were charged with first-degree murder in the death of her son, 2-year-old Michael Cecil, who died Aug. 15 of a beating two days before the case brought scrutiny to the Illinois Department of Children and Family Services because Bennett had been a suspect in another boy's death and DCFs investigated a broken arm Michael suffered several months before his death.

Two DCFs workers were fired after Michael's murder.

On Oct. 6, 23-month-old Reneil Smith Jr. died after three days in a coma. Police allege Michael Carter, 34, of Alton, who has been charged with first-degree murder, shook the boy and caused him to hit his head on a blunt object.

More tragedy struck the family when Reneil's mother, Joyce Little of Godfrey, was killed Nov. 22 in an automobile accident on Illinois Route 3 just north of its intersection with Illinois Route 141.

A 16-year-old Alton youth faces first-degree murder charges in the Aug. 28 death of his father, Holme Musgraves, 43.

The boy, Shannon Musgraves, allegedly shot his father four times in the abdomen and neck after a squabble.

Shannon Musgraves, who is in the Madison County Juvenile Detention Center, said he shot his father after a quarrel and that he and his younger brother had been abused. It was Alton's only murder in 1993.

The brutal beating of two elderly people in Edwardsville sent shock waves through the community. Irwin Dollinger, 87, of Troy died Oct. 6, two days after the attack.

Kareem Jett, 15, of Edwardsville and Anthony Carvante Townner, 18, formerly of Alton, were charged with first-degree murder.

The two victims were found in a woman's home beaten and with their throats slashed. She was hospitalized for more than a month.

Last year brought some answers in the captivating but still mysterious case of Paula Sims, convicted of killing her 6-week-old daughter, Heather.

In the book, "Dying Dreams: The Secrets of Paula Sims" by Audrey Becker, Sims confessed to drowning Heather and 13-day-old Loralei.

Some have speculated she suffered from postpartum depression, but prosecutors claim she's a murderer who got what's coming to her. Appeals courts have rejected her requests for a new trial.

The Illinois Supreme Court refused without comment Oct. 6 to consider her appeal. The 5th District Appellate Court in Mount Vernon had upheld the murder conviction May 4.

Sims, who was the topic of a television movie aired last year and based on another book about the case, could still appeal in federal court.

Two Granite City firefighters work to keep the fire at 1533 26th St. contained on Friday.

Fire chief offers thanks

Fighting a stubborn apartment fire for six hours in frigid weather tested the mettle of Granite City firefighters Friday. Fire Chief Keith Talley said they made it through the ordeal thanks in no little part to the help of many outside of the department.

The fire in an apartment building at 1533 26th Street kept firemen on the scene most of the day Friday, a day when temperatures stayed in single digits with wind-chill factors as low as 30 degrees below zero.

Talley offered special thanks to a number of area businesses and residents who helped firefighters during the ordeal.

He thanked Mayor Ron Selph and the Granite City Township office for providing the bus for firefighters to warm up in; Granite City Chapter of the Red Cross for providing volunteers to stay with the firefighters for four hours and providing coffee and snacks at the scene; Illinois Power, Gionko's Market and Hardee's restaurant, for their help; and the Eagles Aerie for allowing firefighters to warm up and use bathroom facilities in the Eagles building.

Talley also singled out Madison firefighter Bob Hollenbeck for praise. Hollenbeck arrived at the fire early and helped throughout the ordeal, Talley said.

Woman sues psychotherapist

By Bonita Tillman
Staff writer

A Madison County woman claiming she was coerced into a sexual relationship with a Belleville psychotherapist last year filed a lawsuit against the man Dec. 28.

The woman, who filed the suit in St. Clair County Circuit Court as Jane Doe to protect her identity and family is seeking $500,000 from Charles E. Anderson.

Anderson refused to comment.

Doe, a married elementary school teacher and mother, said she sought professional help from Anderson in 1993 and the relationship became "personal, intimate and unprofessional."

She said she was physically and illegally abused by Anderson's alleged violations of the law and unethical conduct in and outside of St. Clair County and was induced to engage in various sexual activities with Anderson.

The incidents were the "result of defendant's inducements and improper conduct and control over said client," the suit alleged.

Doe said she has since had to seek help from a medical doctor, a psychiatrist and psychoanalyst.

2 indicted for steroid possession

Two Ohio men charged in November with transporting steroids were indicted by a St. Clair County grand jury Friday.

Loren D. Fish of Sherrodsville and Harold R. Bouscher of Dover, North Carolina, were indicted on two counts of unlawful possession with the intent to deliver a controlled substance.

The men were stopped for speeding on Interstate 55 near Illinois 203 Nov. 17 by a sheriff's deputy who questioned Bouscher about a faulty pack full of money.

A search of the vehicle turned up more than 2,000 tablets that have been identified as testosterone acetate and testosterone propionate. Officers also allegedly found liquids, tablets and syringes filled with steroids.

Flinn seeks reversal on redistricting

By Mike Viola
Staff writer

State Rep. Monroe Flinn is petitioning the Illinois Supreme Court to reverse its previous decision concerning redistricting.

Flinn claims that former Supreme Court Justice Joseph Cunningham let his anger against the Democratic party influence his vote on the redistricting issue.

"He admits that he was ticked off at the Democrats when he voted on this," Flinn said Monday.

After the 1990 census, a redistricting map was drawn that placed Flinn's home into a new district, District 114. He had previously served for over 20 years as a state representative.

Flinn's new district consists primarily of East St. Louis and Cahokia. His old district now consists primarily of Belleville.

Flinn decided not to seek reelection because he would either have to move to the Belleville area to run in his old district or run against fellow Democrat Wyatt Younger if he stayed at his current home.

After the redistricting plans were drawn, the state Democrats petitioned the Supreme Court to void the plan claiming it was drawn unfairly.

At that time, the Supreme Court had four Democrats (including Cunningham) and three Republicans.

The three Republicans voted for the plan that Republicans favored. Three Democratic justices voted for the plan favored by the Democrats.

Flinn said that after the vote, Cunningham made comments that he was mad at the Democrats for not asking him to seek reelection to the Supreme Court.

Congressman visits — U.S. Rep. Jerry Costello, D-Bellefonte, spoke to the Granite City Chapter of Retired Federal Employees on Monday during a lunch at Charlie's Restaurant, giving a synopsis of the 1993 Congressional year and a preview of the 1994 agenda along with a question-and-answer session.

Soggy fields

Wet ground sows farmers' fears for spring

Madison County farmland will be a soggy sponge this spring as farmers try to bounce back from the second-wettest year in history in 1993.

"The soil is soaked down deep. Old-timers say it's the wettest they've seen," said Ray Gvillo of the Madison County Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service.

Soggy fields may hold up planting corn and soybeans this year, Gvillo said.

In a typical year, Madison County farmers plant 70,000 acres of corn and 100,000 acres of soybeans.

"Late planting means lower corn yields and less income for farmers," Gvillo said.

Area farmland was swamped with 54.76 inches of moisture in 1993, more than 17 inches above normal, said meteorologist Vince Acquaviva of the National Weather Service.

"Last year's 54.76 inches was a few sprinkles short of the record 54.97 inches set in 1982," Acquaviva said.

Madison County farmer Gordon Gass will have to wait for 1,000 acres of land to dry so he can plant the soil for corn and soybeans this spring.

Gass's fall crop harvest was stalled by a record-breaking 9.16 inches of rain in September, an inch more than the old record of 8.16 inches in September 1984.

"If much snow covers the land this winter, it'll take weeks to dry out the fields after the spring thaw," said Gass, who plants the bottom land south of Tokana.

An erratic jet stream was the culprit that unloaded thunderstorms on farmland throughout the summer, Acquaviva said.

The jet stream is an air current that meanders across the earth, influencing changes in the weather, Acquaviva said.

Storms feed off the high energy in the jet stream, he said.

"The jet stream dipped down and hung over the area most of the summer with heavy rain storms," Acquaviva said.

Farm fields are wet at least 6 feet deep, said Wayne Wendland, a climatologist with the Illinois State Water Survey.

"Soil moisture is 25 percent above normal this winter," he said. "The ground is frozen and moisture is locked in the soil until spring."

Wendland predicted that ground water will stay above normal for the next 18 months. "It'll drain very slowly into the subsoil," he said.

Winter Tips

Where Beautiful Things Begin

January can be a rather depressing month for a lot of folks. If you're not into winter activities, the climate doesn't offer much encouragement to venture outside.

If you want to look on the brighter side, think back to Saturday, November 6th. That doesn't seem too long ago, 68 days to be exact. And in just that number of days from now, it will be spring!

Meanwhile, we have some winter to deal with. If you're not fortunate enough to have a Florida vacation on your agenda, here are a few things you'll have to face.

First of all, a normal St. Louis winter isn't all that unbearable. Let's emphasize the word "normal" however. By normal we mean the lowest temperature shouldn't get below minus 5 to 10 degrees. That's plenty cold, but if you think of what the people in the far reaches of northern Minnesota endure, our weather can seem rather balmy. Temperatures of 35 below zero and colder aren't uncommon in those areas. Also, our winters generally aren't as long as theirs.

According to the climate zone map of the United States, St. Louis is in zone 5, which means right about in the middle of the pack. Our winter temperatures compare with those of northern Texas, southern Indiana and northern Virginia, for example. While this area may not be the warmest place to spend the winter, it's certainly not the coldest. But don't count too heavily on "normal." Anything can happen.

Okay, enough meteorology. We know it's cold, so let's get into the things that need taking care of. Like birds, for example. If you've been feeding them all along, please continue to do so. We've mentioned this several times before, and it may be getting a bit stale, but it's extremely important to the birds. They're depending on your generosity!

Rock salt is a great ice melter, but it has a couple of disadvantages. It's not the best thing in the world for concrete, and it can cause considerable damage to your lawn and shrubs. There are alternatives to rock salt available.

able, but you should always check the label to see what's safe for plants. Of course, if you shop at Frank's, the checking has already been done. Every ice-melting product Frank's sells is safe for your lawn or plants!

When clearing snow from your driveway, consider removing some additional snow from the lawn alongside where you park. This makes entering and exiting your car much easier. If the snow's piled high next to the drive, there's no way to get in or out of the car without stepping in the frigid stuff up over your ankles. Turn the shovel over and use it like a squeegee to gently pull excess snow off the grass toward you. Don't try to shovel it in the usual manner or you could damage the lawn.

Try to avoid piling snow on top of your shrubs. All that excess weight can wreak havoc on your prized bushes. If ice and snow does build up on them, gently shake it off.

It's a good idea to avoid walking on your lawn in the winter, especially if there's no snow on the ground. If you must walk on it, try to avoid walking along the same path every time.

If you have a pool in your yard, it's best to simply leave it alone. There's nothing you can do to benefit it now anyway. And you should never walk or skate on a frozen swimming pool, no matter how inviting it appears!

Winter's an excellent time of year to start a hobby and the Frank's is an excellent place to find just what you need. Watch upcoming columns for great craft ideas!

Crowded agenda as lawmakers return

Lawmakers return this week to hear Gov. Jim Edgar's State of the State speech and to address flood spending and expanded vehicle emission testing.

The governor has kept most of his message, scheduled for noon today, Wednesday, a closely guarded secret, but a potential Democratic opponent in this year's election, Cook County Board Chairman Richard Phelan, forced Edgar to show one of his cards.

Phelan ran a series of campaign ads blasting Edgar for not supporting a ban on assault rifles and semiautomatic weapons.

Edgar's press secretary Mike Lawrence quickly responded with the announcement that Edgar would reveal his support for such a ban in his address.

State Rep. Tom Ryder, R-Jerseyville, said he does not know the specifics of Edgar's speech, but he expects some election year rhetoric.

"It should be an attempt to focus the issues on his behalf," Ryder said.

Ryder and Sen. Vince Demuzio, D-Carlisle, said the session scheduled for today and Thursday is also likely to include a debate, although not necessarily a resolution, of Edgar's proposal to slash Medicaid reimbursement rates. At stake is more than 9 percent of Medicaid funding to nursing homes and hospitals. The cut is intended to head off a projected $300 million deficit this fiscal year, but Democrats contend Edgar should have known of the problem when he approved the state budget law makers passed in July.

In another push of the coming legislative battle, the administration will try again to win approval for $300 million in spending authority, primarily federal reimbursement funds, for flood-fighting costs, said Allen Grosboll, the governor's flood response coordinator.

The governor has so far used his emergency powers to temporarily transfer money from other funds for flood-fighting costs.

But Grosboll said the juggling cannot continue long. "At some point in time, we're going to need that money," he said.

Grosboll cited the example of about $14.7 million borrowed from the Illinois State Police appropriation that now requires legislative action to meet trooper payrolls in April, Grosboll said.

Rep. Jim McPike, D-Alton, the House majority leader, said he also hopes the flood appropriation will be passed this week, but he blamed Senate Republicans for failing to get the measure through in the fall session in October.

McPike said House Democrats had refused to go along with "deport barrel" items that were added by Senate Republicans but were neither related to the flood nor requested by the governor.

McPike said he hopes lawmakers will approve the expanded emission testing program sought by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency.

He noted the U.S. EPA is ready to invoke sanctions that would cut off federal highway funds to Illinois by April 1 unless the expanded program is passed.

If the sanctions go into effect, it would cost Illinois at least $250 million in federal road funds in the fiscal year ending June 30 alone, McPike said.

However, Ryder and Demuzio said they doubt the emissions testing bill can pass this week because of opposition by many lawmakers who say they resent the federal government dictating the expanded testing areas.

Ryder said he will vote against the measure because it would add Godfrey to the list of areas whose residents will be forced to line up to have their cars tested.

Demuzio said, "I don't see that passing now."

After this week's session, law makers are not scheduled to return to Springfield again until the governor presents his new budget on March 2.

Penalties possible on incomplete returns

SPRINGFIELD — Incomplete state income-tax returns, including those without signatures, could result in a penalty under a new state law.

The Uniform Penalty and Interest Act, designed to prod taxpayers into being more careful in completing returns, applies to tax returns filed this year.

"Taxpayers who fill out their returns correctly and pay their taxes on time end up footing the bill for others whose returns are not correct. That's not right," said Illinois Department of Revenue Director Raymond T. Wagner Jr.

"My advice to taxpayers is to file complete returns, to file on time and to pay on time. Taxpayers should also be careful to respond to notices from the department," Wagner said.

People who file incomplete returns on time will be given 21 days to correct the return to avoid a penalty.

The penalty is 5 percent of the tax and applies even to those expecting refunds, department spokesman Mike Klemens said.

For example, if the taxpayer owes $1,000 but $1,200 has been withheld and the return is incomplete, the state could deduct $50 from the anticipated $200 refund, Klemens said.

The department estimates that 90 percent of taxpayers file their returns accurately and on time.

Still time to get those flood photos in

The Suburban Journals continues to seek photos of the Great Flood of '93 in order to publish a commemorative book chronicling the event. The hardback book will feature the people of our communities who struggled to fight back the rising waters.

Hundreds of photographs will fill the book. Many will come from readers. To completely depict the emotions and efforts during the historic event, the Journals are seeking photographs taken by you.

Prints may be black and white or color and should illustrate the theme of how people were affected by the flood. Photographs which include people have a better chance of publication in the book.

The accompanying coupon must be included with each photograph submitted. All submissions must be postmarked by Jan. 14, 1994, to be considered for publication.

Not all photographs will be used. They will not be returned regardless of inclusion in the book.

The Journal will inform readers whether their photographs are to be published prior to distribution of the book. If published, the photographer will receive a 50 percent discount coupon on the book and will receive credit.

The book will sell for $29.95 plus $5 shipping and handling prior to delivery, which is planned in early April 1994. After early April, the price for each book will be $39.95 plus $5 shipping and handling.

Details for ordering the book will be published in future issues of the Journal.

2 receive King Humanitarian Award

Charity Stewart, a community youth leader in East St. Louis, and Circuit Judge Milton S. Wharton, of the 20th Judicial Circuit Court, have been named co-recipients of the 1994 Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Community Humanitarian Award presented by Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The award will be honored Jan. 11 at the luncheon program celebrating the birthday of the late Dr. King. The program will begin at 11:30 a.m. in Meridian Ballroom in the University Center.

The award was established by the university "to recognize outstanding individuals who demonstrate the humanitarian qualities and philosophy of nonviolent social change such as those enunciated and demonstrated by Dr. Martin Luther King Jr."

Stewart has been a leader in a wide variety of community organizations and activities, including: chairman of Kujenga, and African-American youth leadership conference, Catholic Youth Organization moderator for St. Joseph's Catholic Church in East St. Louis; volunteer group counselor for the "Parenting for Success Program," a service organization dedicated to helping teen-age mothers; and facilitator of Bridges, an organization that promotes racial harmony.

Stewart served as group leader enabling young people to attend the International World Youth Day events in Denver in August 1993, and she was selected as an alternate for the National Black Catholic Congress in New Orleans in 1992. She has been acclaimed for her efforts to provide numerous opportunities for the young people in her community to experience "positive alternatives."

Judge Wharton was nominated by several leaders of the community who cited him as an exemplary community leader, "always willing and ready to help others and to work to move the community forward." He is credited with initiating the idea of racial harmony in the Belleville-East St. Louis area several years ago, and is a founding member of the Belleville Racial Harmony in Action organization. He is characterized as "a man of powerful moral conviction, who resolutely works for peace, through ethical and moral persuasion."

One of the nominators said of Judge Wharton: "By example and deed, he has helped youths from every race know there is hope and help if you do the 'right thing,' which is to comply with the commandments, strive for civility, personal growth and hard work... his leadership has helped and helped the races, institutions and human beings to open and sustain peaceful dialogue."

James Farmer, founder of the Congress of Racial Equality and a major civil rights leader during the 1960s, will be the keynote speaker at the luncheon celebrating Dr. King's birthday.

Following the luncheon program, an open reception is scheduled from 1:30 to 3 p.m. in Goshen Lounge in the University Center. In addition to the keynote speaker and the presentation of awards, the program will include music by the SIUE Gospel Choir under the direction of Al Anderson. The theme of the celebration is "Empowering To Make a Difference."

Milton S. Wharton

Reservations for the luncheon may be made at the office of the vice president for student affairs, telephone 692-2020 by Jan. 6. Tickets are $8 for SIUE students and $10 for others.

The university will be closed Monday, Jan. 17, in recognition of the national observance of Dr. King's birthday.

Auto theft law off to slow start

A state law to curb auto theft is stuck in neutral. The law, which took effect Jan. 1, is intended to stop theft in early morning hours by putting decals on vehicles to alert police that the car or truck should not be in use between 1 and 5 a.m.

Making practical use of the law will be discussed at the Jan. 29 meeting of the Illinois Sheriffs Association and the Illinois Association of Chiefs of Police.

Mike Murphy, spokesman for Secretary of State George Ryan, said he expects input from the meeting, but added no action on the law is expected until after mid-February.

Any vehicle owner may sign a consent agreement and purchase a special decal that indicates the auto is not normally driven between 1 and 5 a.m.

Under the law, police may stop the vehicle during that time and request to see a driver's license and motor vehicle registration card.

Rep. Dan Burke, D-Chicago, sponsor of the legislation, said the law has been successfully implemented in New York and New Jersey and expects the same results in Illinois.

"In my community there has been an unfortunate rise in auto thefts," he said. "I think (the law) will be an additional tool... to prevent these types of crimes."

Gerard Ranker, program director for the Illinois Motor Vehicle Theft Prevention Council, said heavy crime areas such as Chicago will have to begin the program if the law is to be effective. "It is a definite way to raise the public's consciousness about auto theft and things you can do to prevent it," he said. "But the jury is still out whether it will deter theft or reduce the number of cases."

The council is involved in the development of the decals and release forms. The Secretary of State's Office can charge a $10 fee for the materials.

The consent forms will cost 61 cents per copy, according to Murphy. The price of the decals will depend on what type of sticker is used.

Lazerson get praise, some criticism for management style

Earl Lazerson, president of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, gets generally high marks from colleagues, but his top-down management style makes his retirement welcome to some.

"He tends to make decisions and implement them where some university administrators would delay implementation for more discussion or not make them at all," Faculty Senate President Dickie Spurgeon said.

The top-down management style often was frustrating to faculty, staff and students, said Leslie Hansel, president of the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Technical Staff Association.

"It seemed that no middle managers were given any authority to make decisions," she said. "Everything had to go back to the vice presidents or Lazerson. There were a lot of problems with doing day-to-day business. It's just frustrating."

Lazerson said criticism comes with the job.

"I think morale is dependent to a large extent on what you're personally doing, how you view your own self-worth and whether you consider yourself engaged in interesting and useful work," he said.

"Fourteen years is too long to stay in that job," Spurgeon said. "Every year, you accumulate a few more grievances."

Still, Spurgeon, Hansel and others gave Lazerson overwhelmingly positive marks.

"He has made a major contribution in terms of care for the budget and our relations with the Board of Higher Education and the Legislature," Spurgeon said. "We've fared very well relative to the other universities."

"We've been able to keep the student-faculty ratio relatively low when it has grown hugely at other universities," Spurgeon said. "Lazerson has put great emphasis on keeping tuition affordable for students."

But, he said, there were limits to what Lazerson could do in a time of dwindling state support for higher education.

"He's done a lot to build the university's public image and raise its status within the state," Hansel said. "As an ambassador for the university, he's done a remarkable job."

Hansel, too, said the university has added buildings and maintained high-quality programs.

Lazerson "did an excellent job of providing financial stability and positioning the institution to move forward in graduate and undergraduate education," said Ruth Gresley, former president of the Faculty Senate.

Earl Lazerson

Program offers free eye exams

A program to provide free eye examinations for low-income, uninsured working Americans and their families gets underway in January.

Sponsored by the Illinois and American Optometric Associations, Vision USA is a national program to help people who need eye care but have no means to obtain it.

"Low-income working families with no health insurance are at a great disadvantage for health care benefits," says Dr. James Strieter, secretary-treasurer of the Illinois Optometric Association. "Because of their employed status, they often fall between the cracks of government and private medical assistance programs."

To be eligible for care through Vision USA, one member of the family must be employed, the family must not be covered by government or private health insurance, eye exams must not have been received in the past year, and household income cannot exceed an established level based on household size.

Workers who believe they may be eligible for benefits are encouraged to call 1-800-766-4466 toll free during the month of January only.

Those who qualify for care will be notified by mail if a volunteer optometrist is available in their area; they will be given instructions on how to schedule an appointment for an examination in March.

If eyeglasses are required, there is usually a nominal charge of $20 per pair, although this may vary in different localities.

Vision USA began at The Kentucky Vision Project in 1985. It is now a nationwide program supported by members of the American Optometric Association and other beneficiaries.

In the first two years since Vision USA went nationwide, almost 8,000 AOA member optometrists have provided free eye care to nearly 80,000 people in need.

Senior citizen prom planned

The annual Senior Citizen Prom, sponsored by the Granite City High School Student Council, will be held from 7 to 10 p.m. March 19 at the GCHS Memorial Gymnasium.

Tickets for the event are available from the switchboard operator at the high school.

There is no charge for the tickets, but a maximum of 600 will be distributed with a limit of four tickets per person.

For more information, persons may call the high school at 451-5800.

Businesses or organizations willing to help offset the cost of the event may contact Steve Hamilton at the high school.

William Burns

William Edward Burns, 40, of East St. Louis died at 8:05 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 6, 1994, at John Cochran Veterans Administration Medical Center, St. Louis, after a lengthy illness.

Born Sept. 3, 1953, in Belleville, he had been a lifelong resident of the Metro East area. He was employed as a security officer and formerly served in the U.S. Army. Survivors include his wife, Felicia M. Burns; one son, William Burns Jr. of East St. Louis; two daughters, Marketa Burns and Deanne Burns, both of East St. Louis; three brothers, Joseph P. Burns of Fort Worth, Texas, David Burns of Charleston, S.C., and Robert Burns of Lebanon; and seven sisters, Ina Mae, Wilma, Owens and Earl Brooks, all of Lebanon, Mary Wiley of Belleville, Norma Edwards of Madison, Sandra Reeves of St. Louis and Christine Davis of Tampa, Fla. Services were held Tuesday evening at Office Funerals, 4001 East St. Louis, Burial is at Sunset Gardens of Memory, Millstadt.

Class seeking missing members

The Collinsville High School class of 1959 is planning its 35th reunion for July 2, 1994, at Sunset Hill Country Club in Edwardsville. It is seeking a number of students who have not been located. Anyone with information should call Shari Barnish at 345-0465.

150 attend meeting on MetroLink route

By Kelly Kribben
Staff writer

More than 150 residents and businessmen, primarily from Fairview Heights and O'Fallon, showed up at the first public hearing on MetroLink at the Ramada Inn in Fairview Heights Monday night.

"We're overwhelmed with the response," said Les Sterman of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council.

So much so, the council had to expand the conference meeting room to accommodate the standing-room-only crowd.

"We'd like to meet with each individual community," Sterman said. "We certainly would like to hear what you think before we go forward."

An engineering study was presented at the public hearing. It showed that the Interstate 64 route would cost slightly less and have a shorter travel time, but the route through Belleville and Swansea would have more access and more riders.

Local elected officials, businessmen and community leaders received the first look at the study last week.

"I think it's important for Fairview Heights," said Pat Baeske, a resident of Fairview.

"But, I think it's good for St. Clair County regardless of which route they pick," Deets said.

St. Clair County voters approved a half-cent sales tax increase in November to pay for the 20 percent local portion for the project, or about $70 million. Federal funds will cover the rest, although that money has not yet been approved.

The routes, which both start in East St. Louis and end at Scott Air Force Base, would turn north of the existing station at Fifth and Missouri and begin following I-64 to 28th Street, where they would turn east and continue to use the I-64 right-of-way, while the other would turn south and use the abandoned CSX rail road right-of-way.

Alley

alley by the city has created a nightmare for trucks picking up trash or making deliveries to the nearby American Legion Hall.

Because the end of the alley near 18th Street is now barricaded, trucks making deliveries must enter the alley at 19th Street and turn left onto the alley the way the drivers' license facility parking lot to exit.

"What happens if (the owner of the drivers' license facility) decides to put up a fence or put up another barricade?" Petish asked.

Downtown Committee Chairman Jim Miller told Petish that he would convey the request to take the alley back to the entire City Council for consideration.

In a related matter, Miller → on behalf of the city → offered Petish $25,000 for the sale of the two lots Petish owns in the block. Petish said he would convey the offer to his wife and respond soon.

headed back south on Nameoki, and allegedly fired a third shot at the home.

Police arrested Maykopt at his home shortly after the shooting took place.

A computer check revealed that Maykopt was wanted on two outstanding Granite City battery warrants and a Collinsville warrant for failure to appear in court on a traffic charge.

The man whose house was shot at told police that Maykopt had threatened them the week before the shooting took place, the report states.

material has been collected.

"For a little over 100 pounds of paper that is recycled, we save one tree," Vorce said.

He said that students will be able to better relate to the impact of the project by keeping track of exactly how many trees have been saved by the recycling program.

"Until you see it, you would never realize how much paper we use in a school building," Vorce said.

He said teachers — but especially students — have been very receptive to the project.

"At the beginning of the year, it took me awhile to get used to recycling paper after years and years of just throwing it away."

In fact, my kids caught me throwing away some used paper earlier in the year and we dug it out of the trash and put it in the recycling bin," Vorce recalled.

Drive aims at private schools for disabled

Groups pushing for putting more disabled students into regular classrooms are using a federal report to help push the effort in some private schools.

The Coalition on School Inclusion, made up of disabilities advocates, including IMPACT, Inc. of Alton, released copies last week of a U.S. Department of Education report finding the Illinois State Board of Education in violation of federal policy.

The federal department threatened to withhold funding if the board did not change some of its policies. The report found substandard conditions in some private schools that took disabled children referred from the Chicago public school district.

The federal report also found that state board policies were unequal for private and public schools, such as a requirement that only 25 percent of faculty in the private facilities be certified.

Cathy Contarino, director of community services at IMPACT, said she hoped the federal action would help spur more integration of students with disabilities in facilities for the mentally and physically disabled.

"Separate education is not necessarily equal," she said.

Sharon Freagon, a Northern Illinois University professor and the chief spokeswoman for the Coalition at Wednesday's news conference, said Illinois is 49th among the 50 states in the percentage of disabled children in places in regular classrooms.

The federal report only cited inspections in Chicago, but Freagon said there could be possible problems elsewhere in the state.

At Alton Catholic Children's Home, assistant administrator Steve Roach said an average of 90 to 100 students are attending classes there.

He said the study program is designed for each individual pupil's diagnosed needs and the teacher-pupil ratio of about 5-to-1 is much better than in a public school setting.

"We think for the kids we work with we are the best option for them," Roach added.

He said his facility had recently passed its state inspection "with flying colors and we are highly regarded around the state."

Contarino said she was not aware of any problems at the Catholic Children's Home such as those cited in the Chicago area by the federal agency.

The Coalition on School Inclusion criticized the State Board of Education for failing to vote on a policy requiring school districts to provide more justification for not putting disabled students into the regular classroom programs.

State Board spokeswoman Kim Knauer said state superintendent Robert Leininger had withdrawn consideration of the policy to give board members additional time to evaluate the issue after being bombarded by letters and calls on both sides of the question.

In an unusual twist, one of the Coalition advocates speaking Wednesday was Rene Leininger, the state school chief's wife. Her husband is leaving the state post at the end of the month.

Granite City Holiday Tournament.

The Chatham match was especially difficult for the Warriors, who obviously weren't at their best. Garland said the Redskins were keyed up for a shot at his squad.

"It was a pretty emotional weekend for us, but our kids showed a lot of fight," he said. Granite City had to struggle to survive against Chatham, which has a solid lineup top to bottom. The Warriors were also without 140-pounder Justin Beam, whom Garland held out of action following his win over Quincy's Keith Putnam. Beam was knocked out with a case of the flu.

John Vene got a victory for the Warriors at 145, besting Garrett Kumble, 7-3. Estrada came up with his big win at 160 after Joe Scott suffered a 4-2 loss at 152.

The Warriors' Mark Mitchell won by forfeit, before Ryan Root, one of the best wrestlers in the state, pinned Granite City's

"We found out a lot about our kids this weekend," Garland said. "There are a lot of peaks and valleys during the season and hopefully we've hit our low spot and we're building now toward regionals."

Garland was concerned with how his team would come back from Friday's 41-15 conference win over Belleville East.

"I had my doubts on Friday," Garland said. "I knew we had to come back in about 10 hours and do it again. But the kids wanted to win the conference. I was proud of the way they responded."

The Warriors have solidified at least a share of that with the convincing win over the Lancers. The win gives Granite City a shot at its third straight SWC title and fourth in five years.

Following Thursday's meet at Wood River, Granite City will head to Geneseo High School for the 19th annual Geneseo Invitational.

East, has been ruled ineligible, but East St. Louis is appealing the verdict.

The IHSA claims Chapman didn't notify the association when he switched legal guardianship and moved in with his grandmother in East St. Louis. Chapman's parents live in the Belleville East school district.

"WE'RE FIGHTING THIS. It's not fair," East St. Louis Principal Sam Morgan said.

Chapman is one of two Belleville East transfers playing at East St. Louis. The other is 6-4 senior Jermaine Perkins, deemed eligible by the state association.

If Chapman's appeal is denied, the Flyers would be forced to forfeit all their wins, including an 81-68 victory on Dec. 17 at Alton. The Redskins and Flyers are scheduled to play again Feb. 4 at East St. Louis, the defending conference champ. Collinsville won the title the six previous seasons.

Alton is starting to pick up its win production. The Redskins have won three of their last four games, bowing only to Danville, 77-73 in overtime at the Pontiac Holiday Tournament. In their past three wins, the Birds have scored at least 80 points per game. They did that only twice in their first nine games.

THE GUARD-oriented offense of Curtis Robinson, Kris Phelps and Ryan Fox is beginning to click. Robinson is getting 18.9 points per game and Phelps is scoring 15.5 ppg for the Redskins—who are averaging 71.4, one of the top figures in the area.

Belleville West (6-5 and 2-1) has cooled considerably since winning five of its first six games. The Maroons dropped two of three games at the Centennial Holiday Tournament and then sustained defeats to Alton and O'Fallon the past weekend.

The double OT loss to Alton at home Friday must have lingered with the Maroons on Saturday when O'Fallon trounced them 70-45.

Yet things could change dramatically any weekend. Collinsville still must play at Belleville West and has East St. Louis and Alton at home.

AARP holds its holiday party

President Marge Hall welcomed those attending the American Association of Retired Persons, Chapter 1340, Christmas party December 8. Vice President Margaret Kwiatkowski led the Lord's Prayer and pledged to the day.

A buffet dinner was catered by Petri's.

President Hall thanked the following: Dan and Rosemary Brown, Margaret Kwiatkowski, Annabelle Patton, Alice Nunn, Pauline Hanson, James Goshoe, Wilma Ostresh, Dorothea Ashley, Helen Meyer, Helen Bertach, Bill and Ann Zinn for helping with the serving, collection of tickets, decorating, being greeters and 50/50.

Helen Bergfield announced plans for the annual cobblestone trip are being made. The first week in September is not available, but the second week is. More information is planned at the next meeting. She also asked anyone interested in being an officer for next year to tell Marge Hall or her.

There were 205 in attendance. Gift boxes of candy furnished by Thomas Memorial Mortuaries were given to each member. Additional boxes of candy were awarded as attendance prizes to: Adolph Stanek, Cal Bartels.

Card club has Christmas meeting

Members of the Butterfly Card Club met at the home of Hazel Rollins for dessert and a gift exchange after the group had lunch at Char's in Collinsville.

Favors at the place settings were Santa bags filled with candy. There were extensive holiday decorations.

Pinocchio prizes were awarded to Irene Willis, Junanita Rosenberg, Nell Polley, Lorraine McVoy and Harriet Hoff. Katie Rommert won the honors prize.

Also in attendance were Mary Lou Claussen, Edith Ryan and Thelma Schmidt. Irene Willis will entertain in January.

Helen Pier, Pearl Sharp, John Dezan, Marion Rose Lambert, Warren, Bequette, Marie Verbray, Eleanor Cook, Nick Petrillo, Lora Mae Lombard, Howard Johannigmeier, Betty Epperson, Mary Lee Rozyczki, Loretta Olive and special gift from Thomas's was won by Louise Baker.

Irwin Chapel furnished gift bags containing silver dollars for the officers and members. Winners were: George Plafan, Louise Kovar, Elizabeth Romine, Vasil and Esther Vasileff, Edgar Paddock, Gladys Koisior, Margaret Parker, Bill Hamilos, Leona Clard, Lou Hall, Clara Tanase, Laverne Kienle, Elbert Fritzsche, Bert Evans, Dorothea Ashley, Mell Talley, Charles Creamer, Arthur Lindner, Weldon Deuschman, Andrew Simurda, Cleveland Cox, Casimer Skubish, Freda Hicks, Alva Lallemons, Hattie Jukins, Marie Johnson, Angela Vavra, Ruby Wood, Stephanie Ruzic, Ida Dan, Paye Mercer, Mildred Stanek, Jack Duxan, Wilbur White, Tommy Epperson, Nellie Dezan and Glennia Eaton. Dancing and listening to the music of the "Alley Cats" concluded the evening.

The next meeting will be at 7 p.m. Wednesday, Jan. 12. Refreshments will be served.

Foundation awards scholarship

The Dunbar Alumni Scholarship Foundation recently awarded a $300 scholarship to Jeffrey A. Griggs of Venice.

This scholarship has been applied toward spring semester tuition at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, where Jeffrey is a senior student majoring in business administration with specializations in economics and management information systems.

Jeffrey was the Dr. Martin Luther King Scholar recipient in 1992 and has been a National Dean's List student for three consecutive years (1990 through 1992).

Included in his honors are first place winner, Garry Murphy Writing Competition, National Association for the Advancement of Colored People Recognition Award, Creative Writing Scholarship, St. Louis University 1993; National Honor Society, and a listing in Who's Who Among American High School Students from 1988 through 1990.

He has served on the Student Senate at SIUE, served as student representative on the University Hearing committee and serves as a tutor for the School of Business.

Most recently, Jeffrey was involved in SIUE's Professional Experience Program (PEP) and accepted a co-op assignment to Monsanto World Headquarters, St. Louis, in the capacity of systems analyst, technical support.

The son of Arkel and Dorothy Griggs, Jeffrey is a 1990 graduate of Madison Senior High School.

Jeffrey is the 10th recipient of the Dunbar Alumni Association Scholarship awarded to high school graduates in the Madison-Venice area.

Robert Handy is president of the group and Ruby Coopwood is the scholarship chairwoman.

Hotel hosts Girl Scouts

The Adam's Mark Hotel, famous for its annual holiday gingerbread village, hosted a group of Girl Scouts from Troop 911 of Granite City.

The group of 11- and 12-year-old girls are all from the Frohardt Middle School. They were accompanied by troop leader, Cathy Lofink, and co-leaders, Rosemarie Heath and Cindy Worthen.

The group of future pastry chefs received credit toward their career badges. Adam's Mark Pastry Chef Horst Daehnck showed the girls how to construct a gingerbread house, how to pipe the icing onto the house and how to place the candies on the house for decorations. The girls then made their own houses and got to take them home to their families.

Members of the Pontoon Beach Senior Citizens Club would like to thank the following people and businesses who donated attendance prizes for their Christmas party:

Quality Beach Homes; American Redemption Systems, Mascoutah; St. Louis National Baseball Club; Jethrow's Quick Shop; Luc's; Pepsi Cola Bottling Co. Alton; National Supermarket; their task. Their goal was to give toys to as many boys and girls as possible. The work was hard, but so rewarding. New and used toys were gathered.

Monies for new toys was donated by the Pontoon Beach Lioness Club II, business persons of Pontoon Beach and the Pontoon Beach Lions Club. Toy boxes were filled at Lakeview Restaurant, Ralph and Charlie's restaurant and at the Pontoon Beach Lions Wednesday night bingo for many weeks. The Foursquare Church also donated many new toys to be given to any needy family.

President Dottie Farrell and each Lioness wish to express their heartfelt appreciation to everyone for their participation. Without others who also care, the goals would not have been achieved.

Toys were wrapped and ready to give to bright-eyed boys and girls who were greeted by Santa Claus. Santa spent the whole day handing out gifts, giving out candy canes and listening to their wishes.

A thank you goes out to Lion Nelson King, who played Santa, and helped make a beautiful day for more than 326 boys and girls.

Monica Wofford is chosen for Who's Who Monica Wofford, a senior psychology and sociology major at Southwest Baptist University in Bolivar, Mo., has been selected as a national outstanding leader for the 1994 edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges.

Wofford was chosen based on academic achievement, service to the community, leadership in extracurricular activities and potential for continued success. The 61 SBU students chosen for the Who's Who list join an elite group of students selected from more than 1,400 institutions of higher learning in all 50 states, the District of Columbia and several foreign nations.

Wofford is a 1990 graduate of Granite City High School. She is the daughter of Curtis and Judy Wofford of Granite City.

With more than 3,000 students, Southwest Baptist is Missouri's third largest private institution of higher education. From its main campus in Bolivar, SBU offers graduate and undergraduate degrees with more than 50 academic areas of study and has extension centers in Dexter, Joplin, Mountain View, Salem and Springfield, Mo.

Scholarship nomination deadline is Feb. 7

The deadline for nominating a student for the Carol Kimmel Scholarship at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville is Monday, Feb. 7.

Nomination applications for the scholarship are now available in the SIUE Office of the Vice President for Student Affairs, Room 2306 of the Renaissance Building, and the Kimmel Student Leadership Development Center in SIUE's University Center.

The annual scholarship was established to recognize students for their outstanding leadership and community volunteer service contributions, in addition to academic excellence.

Individuals may nominate a student, or students may nominate themselves, according to the following criteria: Currently enrolled at SIUE, with sophomore, junior, senior, or graduate class standing; an accumulative grade-point average of at least 3.0; demonstrated volunteer contributions within the last two years in leadership, service, and/or citizenship, including leadership in a student organization or at least one elected office; and more than 30 hours of non-paid service to a community agency or community organization.

Kelly Ann Bosworth Wins 2 trophies

Kelsey Ann Bosworth competed in the Little Miss Dazzler pageant Nov. 20 in Granite City, winning trophies for first place in Miss Photogenic, most adorable, most beautiful hair and best model.

She and her mother, Jackie, won a trophy for best chaperone and baby presentation. Kelsey also received a trophy for first alternate for Tiny Miss Beauty Princess for her age division, zero to 11 months, scoring the most points in the pageant in her age division. She received a medalion and banner and then was placed in competition against older age groups for Supreme Queen.

Kelsey's dad, Kent, taped the event, which was attended by her sister, Courtney; her grandmother, Delores Bosworth; aunt, Joann Sadler; her godmother, Katie Modrusic; Judy Modrusic; and Rayleen Boone.

Competes in Snowflake pageant

Joselyn Makenzie Tipler, 2, of Granite City competed in the Little Miss Snowflake pageant held at the Civic Center in Godfrey Nov. 21.

Joselyn received a medalion for most beautiful dress and trophies for first runner-up in photogenic and for the pageant queen. She also received a plaque for high point princess in her age division.

Special thanks were offered to Irwin Chapel and Dr. Rod Hartzell for their generosity.

Joselyn is the daughter of Rhonda Tipler and the granddaughter of Ken and Florence Tipler.

Agency offering training for facilitators

Fresh Picks

If you haven't tasted fresh grapefruit juice in 20 years, it may be a sweet surprise. Processors now squeeze it to limit limonin and naringin — two natural, bitter substances found in seeds and white membrane of grapefruit.

Medicine Chest

Storing prescription drugs in a bathroom medicine cabinet may be convenient, but not the best idea. Humidity and temperature fluctuations can break down a drug's chemical compounds. They do not become dangerous, but may become ineffective faster than if stored in a cool, dry location.

Big Fat Tip

Choose the skinny. Select leaner, lower-fat cuts of meat. Lower grades — choice or good — have less fat than prime grades. Select beef round and loin instead of chuck or rib cuts. Trim fat.

Future Shop

A chain of Dutch markets is experimenting with hand-held scanners issued to each shopper, who scans bar codes on products going into the cart. The scanner issues a statement and the customer pays at an express checkout. (Source: Quaker Foresight.)

Cook like Mom? EASY

By Janice Denham
Staff writer

If cotton shirts come unwrinkled — that is the textile industry's New Year's resolution — people should be able to cook like Mom on today's time budget. The aroma of hot soup should tingle your cold toes in the time it takes to make a telephone call.

The mother of yesteryear did simmer soup all Monday morning while she washed clothes, but she worked with the same philosophy as today's cook.

She used what she had in the pantry, where home-canned tomatoes were stacked. Her freezer held vegetables tucked away the previous summer.

Mom never had it so good — or simple. Today's supermarket aisle has fresh tomatoes, as well as canned with or without seasoning, crushed, sauced and chopped tomatoes. Mom never heard of brown, much less arborio, rice. Today's rice cooks in five to 45 minutes, tastes sweet or nutty, feels chewy or clumpy.

Kidz Cuisine

Children need snacks.

They have small stomachs and cannot take in a lot of food at one time. Try to give them five to six nutritious minifeedings, rather than big meals and non-nutritious snacks, so children do not skip meals and look forward to fun food.

There are flags of caution along the way. Babies who eat large amounts of solid food may drink less formula or breast milk — their single most nutritious food. On the flip side, kids who drink juice all day may be less hungry for other nutritious foods at meal time.

SNACKS

Today's Food

March into 'light' lineup with ease of quick cooking

Sometimes it seems as if everyone eats light and healthy.

Unfortunately, that is far from reality. Many people eat far too much processed food, fast food, "junk" foods and snack food. Combined with a "remote control" couch potato lifestyle, it can lead to an early demise.

When you change the "couch potato" side of you, you also can adapt to eating a light and healthy, fast and easy way.

Light or "lite" has no consistent meaning until May.

Mom cooked

Continued from page 1C. All these choices offer wide opportunity for cooking every day. It makes it OK to cook short or long, easy or challenging. Often the "long" is a matter of time, not difficulty.

Here are recipes to use according to time available and what the pantry holds. Soup is an example.

Simmered-all-day flavor can come from simmering it all day or using a jar of flavored sauce. Sauces come in jars ranging from 20 to 25 ounces or 2 to 3 cups in size. Some people use a combination of dried vegetables and seasonings from the soup shelf that literally "starts" the flavor.

In Hearty Beef-Barley Soup, pepper steak sauce provides flavor impact. A longer-cooking recipe is provided by Steve Noble, recent Cook of the Week in the west. Journals, who offers a vegetable soup his mother made each winter. It is easy, but takes more time to make.

Italian-flavored ingredients, like spaghetti and pizza sauce, are standard today. Individualize them beyond adding meat or chopped tomatoes or tomato sauce and sprinkle with basil or oregano as desired.

Lasagna becomes a regular menu item when uncooked noodles are cooked in a prepared sauce. The trick is to use plenty of liquid and to cook layers long enough to soften the noodles.

Chinese food is time-consuming to prepare if several ingredients must be chopped. Sweet-and-sour sauce makes fast work of the sauce to help quicken the end result. Keep several varieties of rice on hand so it can be made to match the time available. Simmering in this dish takes about 20 minutes.

CHEESY ZUCCHINI LASAGNA

- 2 cups (8 oz.) shredded mozzarella cheese
- 2 cups shredded zucchini (about 2 medium)
- 1 cup ricotta cheese
- 1 cup grated parmesan cheese
- 3 cups spaghetti sauce
- 9 uncooked lasagna noodles

Preheat oven to 350°.
Mix 1½ cups mozzarella cheese, all the zucchini, ricotta cheese and parmesan cheese.

Spread ¾ cup sauce in ungreased 11-by-7-inch rectangular baking dish. Top with 3 noodles. Spread half the cheese mixture over noodles in dish. Top with ¾ cup sauce. Repeat with 3 noodles, remaining cheese mixture and ¾ cup sauce. Top with remaining noodles and sauce.

Bake, covered, in preheated oven about 1 hour until noodles are tender. Remove from oven. Sprinkle with reserved mozzarella cheese. Let stand, uncovered, 15 minutes before cutting.

Makes 6 servings.
Note: If meat is desired, add a pound of cooked ground beef or Italian sausage.

HEARTY BEEF-BARLEY SOUP

- 1 lb. ground beef
- ¾ cup uncooked quick-cooking barley
- 2 cans (14½ oz. each) beef broth
- 1 can (14½ oz.) whole tomatoes, undrained
- 1 jar (about 24 oz.) pepper steak flavor sauce
- 2 cups frozen mixed vegetables

In Dutch oven over medium heat, cook ground beef, stirring occasionally, until brown. Drain.

Stir in barley, broth, tomatoes and sauce. Heat to boiling, stirring occasionally. Reduce heat. Simmer, covered, 15 minutes.

Stir in frozen vegetables. Heat to boiling. Simmer over low heat, covered, about 10 minutes longer until barley is tender.

Makes 6 servings, about 1½ cups each.

MOM'S VEGETABLE SOUP

Put soup meat or soup bone in big pot of water. Add 1 or 2 teaspoons salt. Cut up a large onion. Simmer it with meat about 30 minutes.

Add 1 cup barley. Simmer 30 minutes. Add 1 large can whole tomatoes — home-canned tomatoes are even better. Add 1 box or large bag of frozen mixed vegetables. Simmer over low heat 1 hour.

Add a bag of small noodles and a little parsley. Simmer, covered, the rest of the day.

Serve with toast points or buttered toast strips.

SWEET-AND-SOUR CHICKEN

- 2 cups cut-up cooked chicken or turkey
- 8 oz. fresh Chinese pea pods
- 1 jar (about 24 oz.) sweet-and-sour flavor sauce
- 1 can (8 oz.) sliced water chestnuts, drained
- 1 can (11 oz.) mandarin orange segments, drained
- 4 cups hot cooked rice

In 10-inch skillet, mix chicken, pea pods, sauce and water chestnuts. Heat to boiling, stirring occasionally.

Reduce heat. Simmer, covered, 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. Stir in orange segments. Serve over rice.

Makes 6 servings.

Micro Raves
BY KATHY HANEWINKEL

When packages in the U.S. make that claim must contain food with one-third fewer calories or fat content reduced by at least half than an original version.

"Light" has a connotation with color, too.

For example, white meat is believed to be healthier. This is true — to a certain extent. It usually has less fat and cholesterol and fewer calories from fat, but it also has less iron. Red meat, on the other hand, has more fat, cholesterol and iron, so to get the iron, use it moderately and skip the fatty portion, where it is concentrated.

Pillsbury's magazine "Fast and Healthy," is dedicated to "healthful cooking for active people." It is one of the publications I recommend for recipes that are fast and easy to prepare, healthful, low in calories and delicious. Many recipes are for the microwave or include microwave instructions.

This recipe from its May/June 1992 issue has become a favorite of mine. It includes another "light" food — fish, heralded for being light in fat and cholesterol and advantageous for those concerned with a healthy heart.

MICROWAVE FISH AMANDINE

- 1 lb. fresh or frozen fish fillets, thawed if necessary
- 2 tbsp. slivered or sliced almonds, toasted
- 2 tsp. dry white wine or water
- 2 tsp. lemon juice
- Chopped fresh parsley
- Grated lemon peel

Spray shallow 1½-quart microwave-safe dish with nonstick cooking spray.

Arrange fish in dish with thickest parts to outside edges. Cover with plastic wrap. Microwave on high power 5 to 8 minutes until fish flakes easily with fork, rotating dish one-quarter turn halfway through cooking.

Transfer fish to serving platter. Keep warm.

Add almonds, wine and lemon juice to pan drippings. Microwave on high 1 minute or until thoroughly heated. Pour over fish.

Sprinkle with parsley and lemon peel.

Makes 4 servings; 130 calories, 22 g protein, 1 g carbohydrate, 3 g fat, 75 mg sodium and 1 g dietary fiber each. Dietetic exchanges: 2½ lean meat.

Home economist Kathy Hanewinkel is a specialist in microwave cooking.

'Fat' on new food labels is 100 percent easier to find

Wise Ways
BY CAROL SCHLIT

It is no secret nowadays that a diet high in fat, especially saturated fat, can cause health problems. Heart disease, some forms of cancer, obesity and possibly asthma have been linked to high-fat diets.

No longer is a calculator and a degree in math necessary to figure the amount of fat in food. New nutrition labels now beginning to appear on packaged foods make it easier to determine the amount of total fat and saturated fat.

Nutrition experts recommend getting 30 percent or less of your calories from fat, with about 10 percent coming from saturated fat. This "30 percent" calories from fat goal applies to the total diet over a day or more, not to a single food or meal.

The new nutrition label lists both total fat and saturated fat in grams (g) and as a percent of the Daily Value. The Percent Daily Value (% Daily Value) for fat gives a general idea of how much fat a serving contributes to a 2,000-calorie diet. For example, if you eat 2,000 calories a day and your total % Daily Value for fat in all foods you eat in one day adds up to 100 percent, your diet fits within the recommendations for fat.

Calories from fat is also listed on the nutrition label. This is the number of calories supplied by fat in a serving of food. This number is obtained by multiplying the grams of fat by 9, which is the amount of calories one gram of fat supplies.

Comparing numbers of calories and grams of fat is one

If your total % Daily Value for fat in all foods you eat in one day adds up to 100 percent, your eating pattern that day fits within national health recommendations for fat.

The % Daily Values are based on a daily need for 2,000 calories—the amount used by an active, average-sized woman. A man who would require 2,500 calories a day would expect his fat intake to be larger and his % Daily Value to add up to 125%.

1/2 cup instant reduced-sodium chicken or beef bouillon
1/2 tsp. crushed thyme
1/2 tsp. crushed basil
1/4 tsp. pepper

In blender or food processor, combine dry milk, cornstarch, bouillon, thyme, basil and pepper. Store in airtight container.

To prepare as substitute for one can condensed cream soup in recipes, stir together 1/2 cup dry mix and 1 1/4 cups water in saucepan. Cook and stir until thickened.

Yields equivalent of 9 cans condensed soup, 107 calories per 1/2-cup dry mix.

CASSEROLE SAUCE MIX

2 cups nonfat dry milk powder
1/2 cup cornstarch

Recipe

PEPPERONI TWISTS

- 1 loaf (1 lb.) frozen bread dough, thawed
- 2 tbsp. butter or margarine, melted
- 1 tsp. garlic powder
- 1/2 cup finely chopped pepperoni
- 1/2 cup (2 oz.) grated mozzarella cheese
- 1/2 cup grated parmesan cheese

Roll dough in 10-by-12-inch rectangle. If dough shrinks back after rolling, let it rest a few minutes, then continue rolling to correct size.

Brush dough with half the butter. Top with garlic powder. Evenly sprinkle pepperoni and mozzarella cheese over garlic. Sprinkle with half the parmesan cheese.

Fold dough in half so it measures about 5-by-12 inches. Seal edges and pat down dough.

With knife, evenly divide dough in 8 to 12 slices.

Gently pull and twist each piece. Place twists 2 inches apart on greased baking pan. Brush with remaining butter and top with remaining parmesan. Let rise in warm place 30 minutes to 1 hour until puffy.

Preheat oven to 375°. Bake in preheated oven 12 to 15 minutes until golden brown. Remove from pans immediately to cool on wire rack.

Yields 8 to 12 bread sticks.

Good knowledge of fat meter tips the scale in light way

It's time once again to test your fat knowledge. The answers may surprise you. Answer each of these true or false:

1. Olive oil has less fat and fewer calories than canola oil.
2. Regular margarine has less fat and fewer calories than butter.
3. White cheeses have less fat than yellow cheeses.
4. Skim milk has less fat but also less calcium than two percent milk.
5. Two percent milk is labeled "low-fat" because two percent of its calories come from fat.
6. Diet margarine has less fat and fewer calories than regular margarine because diet margarine gets only half its calories from fat.
7. Chocolate syrup (like Hershey's) is high in fat.
8. Shrimp and other shellfish are high in fat.
9. "Light" olive oil has less fat and fewer calories than

Living Lean for Adults

BY PATRICIA GUFFEY

deeper-colored olive oil.
10. Starchy foods — like potatoes, bread and corn — are fattening and should be avoided if you are trying to control weight.
Answers: They are all false.

1. All oils are 100 percent fat and have the same number of calories.
2. Margarine has less saturated fat — the type of fat that raises blood cholesterol levels — than butter, but the same amount of total fat.
3. All regular cheeses — yellow or white — have the same amount of fat.
4. Skim milk has less fat than two percent milk, but the same amount of protein, and slightly more calcium than two percent milk.
5. Two percent milk is two percent fat by weight, but 35 percent fat by calories.
6. Diet margarine gets all its calories from fat, just like regular margarine. The difference? Diet margarine has water whipped into it, so teaspoon for teaspoon it has less fat and fewer calories than regular margarine.

7. Chocolate syrup is virtually fat-free.
8. Shrimp and shellfish are very low in fat, but slightly higher in cholesterol than other fish.
9. All oils, regardless of color, are 100 percent fat and have the same number of calories. "Light" refers to olive oil's color.

10. Starchy foods are not fattening — unless they are covered with butter, oil or cream sauce.

Recipe

FROZEN PEACH SMOOTHIE

1. envelope unflavored gelatin
2. cans (16 oz. each) sliced peaches or apricots in juice, drained, reserving juice, and coarsely chopped
- 1 can (6 oz.) frozen lemonade concentrate, partially thawed
- 1 carton (8 oz.) low-fat plain yogurt
- 3 packets sweetener

In medium saucepan, sprinkle gelatin over reserved peach juice. Let stand 1 minute. Over low heat, stir about 5 minutes until gelatin is completely melted, then stir in yogurt, sweetener and fruit.

Pour into 9-inch square baking pan. Freeze 3 hours or until firm.

With electric mixer or food processor, beat mixture until smooth. Return to pan. Freeze 2 hours or until firm.

To serve, let stand at room temperature 10 minutes or until slightly softened. Spoon into dessert dishes or stemmed glassware.

Makes eight (½-cup) servings; 120 calories; 3 g. protein, 28 g. carbohydrate, 1 g. fat, 25 mg. sodium and no cholesterol each. Diabetic exchange: 2 fruit.

FEELING FIT

By Mark Lymboropoulos

Skiers need adequate carbohydrates to keep up energy levels, say dietitians. Some recommend multiple small snacks instead of big meals. Drink plenty of fluids, even if you don't feel thirsty.

Inner thigh stretch is a feel-good stretch for the adductors. Sit on the floor with the soles of the feet together, back straight, knees open. Holding your ankles for support, lean forward and gently press down your knees with your elbows.

One New York resort offers a zero-calorie lunch — a combination package of a morning workout in its sports center (even counting the calories burned), then a gourmet lunch for that number of calories.

Why warm up before exercise? It's not only good for the muscles, it improves self-assurance and concentration.

Everyone knows about bananas for potassium, but there are other top sources of the necessary mineral, too: dried fruit, leafy greens, orange juice, milk, yogurt, fish, or a baked potato with its skin.

Horoscope

Wednesday, Jan. 12
Venus conjuncts Neptune. Mercury sextiles Pluto, and the sun conjuncts Uranus. These are truly extraordinary energies that can bring out your full measure of personal genius. Some of you will become trailblazers, perhaps to the extent of revolutionizing the industry you're in. Others will experience transcendent inspiration and perhaps bring their ultimate novels, symphonies or sculptures. Human relations are expanded.

ARIES (March 21-April 19). A series of remarkable aspects bring out your full measure of career talents, but from a material standpoint, you should make sure you have a plan to hang on to your funds. You can orchestrate large-scale projects.

Taurus (April 20-May 20). Today's events have many bearing on the future. Someone enters your life who could be your romantic ideal. The course of legal affairs is hard to decide, but you aid your cause considerably by exercising self-control.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21). The process of regaining power and mastery over your life takes a giant leap—but it's dramatic and positively affects your earning ability. Do everything you can to keep the handling of business finances aboveboard.

CANCER (June 22-July 22). Romance and reality need not be mutually exclusive, but the process does require that you avoid proceeding along the line of least resistance. Having a good financial adviser is one of your many riches!

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). The great wake-up call from life has come! New methods, innovations and ways of relating to colleagues will streamline your work. Short bursts of activity can be better than pushing yourself too long and too hard.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (Jan. 12). An air of unpredictability makes '94 challenging. Use January to assess personal needs and to decide a course of action. Sharing companionship and cooperation are key in February and November. Love interests can greatly influence your life.

Business affairs require special handling in April and August. Relationships reach a turning point in June. In July, keep yourself healthy by relaxing and taking a break.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). Even minor changes in habits can bring startling but liberating experiences. Having a sense of compassion and love keeps a relationship alive. What you do now sets up the possibility of major financial income.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). Your private, inner life yearns for recognition or attention, leading to greater personal happiness down the line. As much as you like to acknowledge the good in others, it's wise to look after your own interests first.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). The independent course of your mind may surprise even you! Unexpected communications could mean unexpected business profits. Travel represents freedom, and you are sure to have your share as the month unfolds.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). Financial downers have a way of turning around today if you are willing to listen to the inner voice that's ready to guide you out of the abyss. The help you've given others has made a difference.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). Venus passing over Neptune in Capricorn tells you that the way you do things is as important as the results. Uranus, the Great Awakener, continues to open avenues of enjoyment you never thought possible.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). The sun transiting over Uranus, your planetary ruler, is a sure signal that you can live according to your own rules as well as others'. Trust any impulse to support people in their development and they will support yours.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). Venus' transit of Neptune signals the end of one financial cycle and the beginning of the next. With focused determination, you can succeed.

NIGHT AND DAY: One of Cole Porter's most famous songs, "Night and Day," has been recorded by Ella Fitzgerald and U2, among others. Song titles often mention day or night, and many have had big hits.

1. "Day After Day," a No. 4 hit in early 1972, was the biggest hit on the Billboard charts for what group?

2. At the height of the disco craze, what song by The Bee Gees—eight weeks at No. 1 in 1978—was this group's biggest hit?

3. Respectively, who hit No. 10 in 1963, and then who hit No. 6 in 1974, with the rock era chestnut "Another Saturday Night"?

4. What was the No. 1 hit in the summer of 1976—and the only Top 40 chart entry—for Starland Vocal Band?

5. Who hit No. 11 in early 1982 with "Cool Night," and is perhaps best known for his No. 6 hit that spring, "66 Love Affair"?

6. What was the No. 9 hit in 1983 for The Rolling Stones?

7. What one-hit wonder had its only Top 40 entry with a No. 1 hit in the late summer of 1974, "The Night Chicago Died"?

8. What was the No. 4 hit from mid-1969 was the biggest pop-chart success for The Edwin Hawkins Singers?

ANSWERS: 1. Badfinger 2. "Night Fever" 3. Sam Cooke, Cat Stevens 4. "Afternoon Delight" 5. Paul Davis 6. "Under cover Of The Night" 7. Paper Lace 8. "Oh Happy Day"

Triple Lodge #835 installs officers for '94

Triple Lodge #835, Ancient Free and Accepted Masons, held an open installation of the 1994 officers Dec. 11 at the lodge hall located in Granite City.

The following were installed: Dale O'Bear, worshipful master; Keith Pogue, senior warden; Nelse Provence, junior warden; Ellis Hackney Jr., secretary; Jerry Pragacz, treasurer; Paul O'Bear, senior deacon; Lee Jones, junior deacon; Scott Berger, senior steward; Stanley Myers, junior steward; Ronald Bobb, chaplain; Jim Greene, marshal; and Richard Foote, Tyler.

Worshipful brothers, Gary Reed, Lloyd "Tony" Root, Kelly Hogan and Jim Conterman, all past masters of Triple Lodge, were installing officers for the evening. Bethel #43 International Order of Job's Daughters sang and performed the ceremony of "Forming of the Cross." James Stuart, Chapter Order of DeMolay, also performed the 9 O'Clock Interpolation. Those in attendance were served dinner prior to the installation and light refreshments following.

"This is going to be an exciting year, not only for masonry in general, but Triple Lodge in particular," said Dale O'Bear, newly installed worshipful master. "This year, 1994, is our 100th anniversary. We have many wonderful activities planned throughout the year."

"We are proud of our heritage and proud that our lodge has served this community for that entire length of time." Triple Lodge was originally located in Venice. Triple Lodge and Granite City Lodge #677 joined together to erect the building located at 20th and Cleveland, which still houses both Triple Lodge and Granite City Lodge.

"Triple Lodge has assisted the community in many projects throughout the years. It was utilized by the medical profession during the flu epidemic that affected the city in the late 1930s and early 1940s. It assisted in the great flood during the 1930's and worked hard with the USO during World War II. Its charitable outreach has touched the lives of countless families through the years, not only in Granite City but across Illinois as well."

"Our current membership is well over 700," said O'Bear, "and continues to grow. We want our community to know that Masonry is alive and well in Granite City. We truly believe in the basic teaching of our fraternity, brotherly love, relief and truth."

Venice-Madison Unit 307 holds holiday party

Venice-Madison Unit 307, American Legion Auxiliary, held its Christmas party Dec. 6 at Post 307 in Venice.

There were 22 present, and enjoyed the table of food prepared and served by the Unit Past Presidents Parley.

Following lunch, a short business meeting was conducted. The group took lunch meats and cheeses to the McDonnell U.S.O. on December 17th for their "Exodus" time beginning December 19th. This is the time when service people from Fort Leonard Wood, Scott Air Force Base, and other areas will be passing through the airport on their way home for the holidays.

Several members will bake homemade cookies for this also.

A $25 donation was voted for the John Cochran V.A. Hospital Christmas Fund. Two hams were donated to OATH for its annual Christmas dinner. The Unit provided quarters for the Juniors to use in their visit to the Jefferson Barracks Nursing Home on December 14th. Cupcakes were baked by members for the Post 307 Annual Childrens Party on December 18th.

Two bingo parties were held at the Granite City nursing homes: On Thursday, December 9th at the Colonial Haven Care Center and on December 16th at Colonades Nursing Home. Cookies, punch, and a Christmas greeting card were given to Dorothy Hinson, Pauline Mersinger, Marge Nonn, Delores Stalcker, Joyce Pittenger, Bette Nugent, and Patricia Harness.

Bingo was enjoyed by all members followed by an exchange of Christmas gifts. Christmas carols were sung.

Past Presidents were Norma Hillmer, Dorothy Hinson, Mary Ballentine, Frances Cowley, Leticia Taylor, Delores Weiss, Maxine Simmons, Jane Modruski, and Roseann Koelker.

When you put it all together... the answer is Eden Care Center

Finding quality nursing care is a puzzle. Quality, Caring, Programs, and Convenience are major considerations. Eden Village knows this and offers a highly dedicated staff to provide 24-hour professional nursing care. In fact, we have 40% more nurses than the state requires. That's part of the reason we've received a 99.1% quality rating.

Special programs for Alzheimer's patients and individualized restorative care helps all patients achieve a maximum level of independence. We offer comfortable private and semi-private accommodations in a pleasant residential neighborhood just five minutes north of Anderson Hospital with easy access to Hwy. 159 near I-270. And, because we're church affiliated, you know we care. Call Eden Care Center to arrange a personal visit and solve the nursing care puzzle.

Eden Care Center is a division of Eden Village, a not-for-profit organization sponsored by Eden United Church of Christ. Eden Village also provides Apartments and Duplex homes for the Active and Independent Senior.

4 enter college competition

Four seniors from Granite City High School participated Dec. 4 in Illinois College's annual honor scholarship competition.

The contestants were Adam Jenness, Jeanne McMillan, Beth Nee and Jennifer Wojtowicz, all of Granite City.

The event attracted 196 seniors from across Illinois and several other states. The 1993 turnout pushed the program's eight-year total to more than 1,000 contestants.

The college, located in Jacksonville, will award merit scholarships worth more than $240,000 to the top 12 students.

Four contestants will earn full-tuition scholarships, each valued at more than $30,000 over the next four years, while eight others will be awarded half-tuition stipends, valued at more than $15,000 each.

The program is supported by institutional funds derived from alumni and other benefactors. To qualify to take the scholarship exam, students had to meet rigid academic guidelines.

District spelling bee held

The District #9 Elementary Spelling Bee, under the director of Ellen Voyles, principal of Niedringhaus School, was held at Coolidge Junior High School.

Students qualified for the event by winning at the building level in their respective grade levels. District-wide winners and runners-up were named in the event for third, fourth, fifth and sixth grade divisions.

The district winners and runners-up are as follows:

Third grade, Monica Morrison, Frohardt School; and Ashley Lambert, Niedringhaus School.

Fourth grade, Ryan Herman, Niedringhaus School; and Matt Hayden, Lake School.

Fifth grade, Scott Pregel, Parkview School; and Chris Goddie, Maryville School.

Sixth grade, Heather Accardi, Niedringhaus School; and Brandi Stufflebean, Prather School.

Other students participating and their schools were:

Third grade, Jeremie Moore, Lake; Emily Krug, Marshall;

Brian Schaefer, Maryville; Danielle Reed, Mitchell;

Oswin Parkview; Heather Osrey, Prather; and Stephanie

Trucks, Wilson. Fourth grade, Danny Roach, Frohardt; Anthony Gibson, Marshall; Tricia Hootenpyle, Maryville; Jessie Buford, Mitchell;

Mandy Williams, Parkview; Jessica Adams, Prather; and Ashley Green, Wilson.

Fifth grade, Dayne Shipman, Frohardt; Tara Dawson, Lake;

John Sappington, Marshall; Kara Wallace, Mitchell; Jamie Cassidy, Niedringhaus; Irenis Fernandez, Prather; and Rick

Utage, Wilson. Sixth grade, Brian Bogovich, Frohardt; Rory Schneider, Lake; Rachel Whitehead, Marshall; Eric Lewis, Maryville; Melissa Lueke, Mitchell; Kristin Bernak, Parkview; and Shelly Pulaski, Wilson.

Classroom teachers and elementary principals help organize and run the spelling bee.

Those helping this year were Helen Schmissner, Jim Parker, Mary Ann Stuart, Kirk Supp, Pam Finnon, Ron Stern, Jane Jackstadt, Sharon Pfoender, JoAnn Aleman, Cindy Mills, Elizabeth Hall, Vicki Boyd, Nancy Mari, Jane Franko, Donna Polivick and Sandy Strannigan.
